have a personalised library website reading lists, past exam papers, subject to ‘widgetise’ its website, including similar to iGoogle. The project will also searches a consolidated database web discovery service. summon device friendly.

publishers and database vendors. content supplied by major academic approach similar to that adopted by The library subscribed to the summon templates. in mid-year, the library migrated throughout 2009.

take up of the service rose steadily website or from any website. Their product was delivered in late november date of early first semester 2010. The in late october with a projected release convenient access to information, the as part of its priority to provide more

• acquired
• made available
• welcomed

The overall budget trajectory remained difficult. The Library’s income increased by around 2%, but staffing costs (which represent almost half of our total spend) increased by 4.6%, reflecting major staffing reductions. The overall budget was decreased by 3%.

The Library continues to resist any request to reduce funding for content, although in 2009 subscriptions, including databases, print and electronic journals, electronic packages, and local and multiuser online databases, constituted 2.8% of the budget. The budget supports document delivery, libraries, indexes and databases.

The Library Technology Service and the Information Access Service were both reviewed by Deloitte. The review resulted in a changed organisational structure, with the two sections joining together in August 2009 under the banner of Library Technology and Resources. The new structure is designed to provide a more efficient delivery of services to the campus community. Staff from Library Technology and Resources have moved to the Information Access Service.

The Library continued to review and improve structures available for students. In March 2009, a Space Use Survey was held in the UQ Princess Alexander Hospital Library. These results were used to feed into the design of the new Library Services Library in the Pharmacy Centre Excellence.

The Library and Information Management and Resources.

The Library Committee of the academic board, chaired by Professor Kaye Baxter, served as a means of communication between the Library and the staff of the University.

The University librarian and director of learning services.

The Library was managed by its Library Executive which is turn reported to the Deputy Vice-Chancellor Academic, Professor Michael Boger pictured in top. Senior library managers oversee discrete sections of the organisation.

The Library Committee of the academic board, chaired by Professor Kaye Baxter, served as a means of communication between the Library and the staff of the University.

The University librarian and director of learning services.

The Library was managed by its Library Executive which is turn reported to the Deputy Vice-Chancellor Academic, Professor Michael Boger pictured in top. Senior library managers oversee discrete sections of the organisation.

The Library Committee of the academic board, chaired by Professor Kaye Baxter, served as a means of communication between the Library and the staff of the University.

The University librarian and director of learning services.

The Library was managed by its Library Executive which is turn reported to the Deputy Vice-Chancellor Academic, Professor Michael Boger pictured in top. Senior library managers oversee discrete sections of the organisation.

The Library Committee of the academic board, chaired by Professor Kaye Baxter, served as a means of communication between the Library and the staff of the University.

The University librarian and director of learning services.

The Library was managed by its Library Executive which is turn reported to the Deputy Vice-Chancellor Academic, Professor Michael Boger pictured in top. Senior library managers oversee discrete sections of the organisation.

The Library Committee of the academic board, chaired by Professor Kaye Baxter, served as a means of communication between the Library and the staff of the University.

The University librarian and director of learning services.

The Library was managed by its Library Executive which is turn reported to the Deputy Vice-Chancellor Academic, Professor Michael Boger pictured in top. Senior library managers oversee discrete sections of the organisation.

The Library Committee of the academic board, chaired by Professor Kaye Baxter, served as a means of communication between the Library and the staff of the University.

The University librarian and director of learning services.

The Library was managed by its Library Executive which is turn reported to the Deputy Vice-Chancellor Academic, Professor Michael Boger pictured in top. Senior library managers oversee discrete sections of the organisation.

The Library Committee of the academic board, chaired by Professor Kaye Baxter, served as a means of communication between the Library and the staff of the University.

The University librarian and director of learning services.

The Library was managed by its Library Executive which is turn reported to the Deputy Vice-Chancellor Academic, Professor Michael Boger pictured in top. Senior library managers oversee discrete sections of the organisation.

The Library Committee of the academic board, chaired by Professor Kaye Baxter, served as a means of communication between the Library and the staff of the University.

The University librarian and director of learning services.

The Library was managed by its Library Executive which is turn reported to the Deputy Vice-Chancellor Academic, Professor Michael Boger pictured in top. Senior library managers oversee discrete sections of the organisation.

The Library Committee of the academic board, chaired by Professor Kaye Baxter, served as a means of communication between the Library and the staff of the University.

The University librarian and director of learning services.

The Library was managed by its Library Executive which is turn reported to the Deputy Vice-Chancellor Academic, Professor Michael Boger pictured in top. Senior library managers oversee discrete sections of the organisation.

The Library Committee of the academic board, chaired by Professor Kaye Baxter, served as a means of communication between the Library and the staff of the University.

The University librarian and director of learning services.

The Library was managed by its Library Executive which is turn reported to the Deputy Vice-Chancellor Academic, Professor Michael Boger pictured in top. Senior library managers oversee discrete sections of the organisation.

The Library Committee of the academic board, chaired by Professor Kaye Baxter, served as a means of communication between the Library and the staff of the University.

The University librarian and director of learning services.

The Library was managed by its Library Executive which is turn reported to the Deputy Vice-Chancellor Academic, Professor Michael Boger pictured in top. Senior library managers oversee discrete sections of the organisation.

The Library Committee of the academic board, chaired by Professor Kaye Baxter, served as a means of communication between the Library and the staff of the University.

The University librarian and director of learning services.

The Library was managed by its Library Executive which is turn reported to the Deputy Vice-Chancellor Academic, Professor Michael Boger pictured in top. Senior library managers oversee discrete sections of the organisation.

The Library Committee of the academic board, chaired by Professor Kaye Baxter, served as a means of communication between the Library and the staff of the University.

The University librarian and director of learning services.

The Library was managed by its Library Executive which is turn reported to the Deputy Vice-Chancellor Academic, Professor Michael Boger pictured in top. Senior library managers oversee discrete sections of the organisation.

The Library Committee of the academic board, chaired by Professor Kaye Baxter, served as a means of communication between the Library and the staff of the University.

The University librarian and director of learning services.

The Library was managed by its Library Executive which is turn reported to the Deputy Vice-Chancellor Academic, Professor Michael Boger pictured in top. Senior library managers oversee discrete sections of the organisation.

The Library Committee of the academic board, chaired by Professor Kaye Baxter, served as a means of communication between the Library and the staff of the University.

The University librarian and director of learning services.

The Library was managed by its Library Executive which is turn reported to the Deputy Vice-Chancellor Academic, Professor Michael Boger pictured in top. Senior library managers oversee discrete sections of the organisation.

The Library Committee of the academic board, chaired by Professor Kaye Baxter, served as a means of communication between the Library and the staff of the University.

The University librarian and director of learning services.
The Library received an award of $25,000 in recognition of the support for learning provided by its staff.

The reference software support team was recognised for ongoing service, innovation, supporting scholarship, and building the digital research environment.

In 2009, the Library continued to support teaching and learning at the University through the development of new resources, including course materials, the provision of a range of learning objects and an online research library.

The Library also continued to support collection development in emerging or new research areas such as creative education, climate change and sustainability. It also used funds to fill gaps in existing collections.

The Library provided support for learning and research globally. It was instrumental in the process and continued to raise the visibility of the University's e-research infrastructure.

The Library continued to support learning in new ways and continue to offer library services such as the reference desk, digital delivery of resources, and the provision of online resources.

The Library also contributed to the University's e-research infrastructure, developing and maintaining UQ Espace, streamlining the navigation tools for online content, and digitising thousands of items from its various collections.

The Library provided support for learning and research globally. It was instrumental in the process and continued to raise the visibility of the University's e-research infrastructure.

The Library again offered a Fryer Library Award to promote the scholarship in the arts and use of the collections of the Fryer Library to undergraduates. It was also extended to expand the Digital Architecture Image Library Collection Queensland Country Towns. This image will be available through the National Library's PictureThis service, as well as the Digital Collections.

The Library and the Centre for the Government of Queensland offered scholarships and resources to promote Queensland's Post Online, a web portal to unlock access to the collections of Queensland's libraries, museums, archives, and government departments. The Library also received a Fryer Library Award to promote the scholarship in the arts and use of the collections of the Fryer Library to undergraduates. It was also extended to expand the Digital Architecture Image Library Collection Queensland Country Towns. This image will be available through the National Library's PictureThis service, as well as the Digital Collections.

The Library and the Centre for the Government of Queensland offered scholarships and resources to promote Queensland's Post Online, a web portal to unlock access to the collections of Queensland's libraries, museums, archives, and government departments. The Library also received a Fryer Library Award to promote the scholarship in the arts and use of the collections of the Fryer Library to undergraduates. It was also extended to expand the Digital Architecture Image Library Collection Queensland Country Towns. This image will be available through the National Library's PictureThis service, as well as the Digital Collections.

The library organised three rehabilitation work experience placements in Library Technology Service, Dorothy Hill Library, and the Centre for the Government of Queensland. The library also continued to offer a fryer library award to promote the scholarship in the arts and use of the collections of the fryer library to undergraduates. It was also extended to expand the Digital Architecture Image Library Collection Queensland Country Towns. This image will be available through the National Library's PictureThis service, as well as the Digital Collections.