TAYLOR & FRANCIS GROUP LIBRARY EXCELLENCE AWARD IN RESEARCH
GUIDELINES FOR APPLICANTS

Purpose
To reward a research higher degree student who has demonstrated excellent use of library resources.

Award and value of prize
1. $1,000
2. Receive personalised Library assistance to maximise the impact of your research including a metrics report and a strategy for publishing in high impact journals.

Eligibility
A Research Higher Degree Student who has obtained outstanding success in their field. Research Higher Degree Students can self-nominate.

The application must include:

- Overview of research (200 words)
- Supporting statement from their supervising UQ academic staff member (200 words)
- Statement addressing how they have used Library resources in their research (300 words).

Selection of award
The award recipient will be selected on the merit of their written application, taking into account their research achievements supported by UQ Library use. The selection panel will include:

- Director, Learning and Research Services, UQ Library
- Associate Director, Scholarly Communication and Repository Services, UQ Library

The selection of the successful recipient will be signed off by the Dean of the Graduate School

Conditions of the award
- The award is open only to Research Higher Degree students.
- The award will be presented at a Library event.
- The recipients’ name and details of their research will be published on the UQ Library website and will be used for promotional purposes.