New Advance Queensland funding ignites more ideas and jobs

Eighty-five innovative Queensland businesses will share in $10 million of Palaszczuk Government funding to develop products and create new jobs, Minister for Innovation, Science and the Digital Economy Leanne Enoch announced today (Friday).

Townsville-based ADIVO – who are behind an innovative market-ready prototype of the world’s first automated electronic inflation system for lifejackets – received $100,000 in Ignite Ideas funding.

CEO Mitch Nissen said the product has international appeal, including a ready market with Great Barrier Reef tourism operators. He said the funding will allow his business to expand with three new jobs, and in the longer term another 24 positions.
